Addressing Social Determinants: Impacting Health & Wellness Beyond Traditional Medicine (SDoH Series Part 1)

Monday, July 29, 2019 | 12pm ET | 9am PT

Social determinants of health (SDoH) – like socioeconomic status, education, neighborhood and physical environment, employment, social support networks, and access to health care – can have drastic impacts on individual health, wellness, and quality of life. There are many stakeholder organizations attempting to address these social determinants – including federal and state governments, educators, law enforcement, and, of course, health care providers and payers.

In Part One of the SDoH Series, dig into the national SDoH domains, and hear three case studies on health care payer / provider initiatives aimed at tackling these factors.
