

Behavioral Health HEDIS[®] Measures: An Annual Update From NCQA[®]

Thursday, August 29, 2019 | 12pm ET | 9am PT

Measuring the quality of processes and clinical outcomes in the mental health and substance use treatment industry is gaining more attention across the health care spectrum. During this webinar, experts from NCQA – Junqing Liu, PhD, MSW, Research Scientist, and Lauren Niles, MPH, a Senior Research Associate, review the current behavioral health measures in the Healthcare Effectiveness Data & Information Set (HEDIS[®]). Dr. Liu and Ms. Niles discuss the strategies they have seen providers and payers utilize when faced with challenges regarding measuring quality and responding to areas for improvement. They also provide an update on the future of behavioral health HEDIS[®] measures.

Speakers are paid consultants to Otsuka Pharmaceutical Development & Commercialization, Inc.
